SIXTIETH ANNUAL REPORT

OF THE

INSURANCE COMMISSIONER OF THE STATE OF CALIFORNIA

VOLUME I. FIRE AND FIRE AND MARINE

June 6, 1928.

To His Excellency, C. C. YOUNG,
Governor of the State of California.

SIR: Pursuant to the provision of Section 595 of the Political Code, I respectfully submit Volume I of the Sixtieth Annual Report of the Insurance Department of the State of California, containing synopses of the statements of all fire and marine insurance companies, statistical tables and other information relative to these classifications of insurance, for the calendar year ending December 31, 1927.

In recent years it has not been the practice of the Insurance Commissioner in California to include in his report anything further than the tabular statistical data herein presented and a mere letter of transmittal. The earlier practice here and the present practice in some of the other states is to accompany the statistical data with a discussion of the important occurrences of the year not fully apparent from the statistical tables. It seems to me omission of this feature from the California reports has been rather unfortunate, both because it does not fully present many things of interest with regard to the insurance business of the state for the information of the public and it leaves no record of past actions which may be of assistance in the future administration of the department. For these reasons I have determined this year to revert to the older practice and review in part, not only the past year, but the more important things since I took office.

IMPORTANCE OF INSURANCE BUSINESS IN CALIFORNIA

California is now the fourth state in the Union in volume of insurance business transacted and is the second in the volume of casualty insurance. The total volume of business issued, premiums and losses, appear in the tabular presentations and I need not elaborate upon this matter beyond pointing out that this importance of the state is also reflected in the number of new companies organized in this state or admitted from other states, which you will note in the successive reports of this department.

Except as to certain types of assessment life associations, more fully dealt with later in this report, our laws appear to give ample power to the Insurance Department with regard to the organization of local insurance companies.

ADMISSION OF FOREIGN COMPANIES

In general I may say that the conclusion just expressed with regard to the control of organization of domestic companies applies to the admission of companies from other states. There has recently, however, come to my attention certain particular matters which raise some question whether the present status is entirely for the interest of the insuring public of this state. Section 597 of the Political Code provides in part as follows:

> "Wherever any company not organized under the laws of this state, applies for a certificate of authority to do business in this state, the Insurance Commissioner may make, or cause to be made by the insurance department of the state where such company is organized, an examination of the business and affairs relating to the insurance business of such company."

It has been for a long time the custom of this department when a company of another state desires to enter business in California, to require the filing of the formal papers called for in the various sections of the Political Code, a copy of its last annual statement as filed with the insurance commissioner of its home state, and a report of examination by such commissioner. The entrance papers are then referred to the Attorney General's office as to legal form and an effort is made in this office to see that the company is solvent under the provisions of our laws and that prospective policyholders in California will probably be properly dealt with.

Section 602, dealing with insolvency, lays down the test for determining the condition of an applying company, but in the case of a California company the interpretation of this section is modified by the provisions of section 421 of the civil code, relative to the investments of insurance companies and also section 415 relative to real estate holdings. It had been assumed heretofore that in view of the provisions of section 15 of article XII of the constitution, "No companies organized outside the limits of this state shall be allowed to transact business within this state on more favorable conditions than are prescribed by law to similar companies organized under the laws of this state," the department was authorized to apply the limitations of the provisions of section 421 in viewing the statement of the applying company.

It has been recognized that with every state having its own provisions with respect to the investments of its companies, confusion might arise and that a reasonable comity and common sense should be used in this application, but that otherwise the section should apply. In a recent application of a company from another state the rule of section 421 would have prevented the company being admitted without its rearranging its investments in several respects. Particularly, it had invested a larger portion of its capital and surplus in the stock of a single corporation than is permitted by the provisions of section 421. The company protested my interpretation of this section and I therefore referred the matter to the Attorney General for an opinion. In response to my request he has pointed out that section 421, by its terms, refers to companies organized under the laws of this state and that there is, therefore, no authority to be found within the section requiring insurance companies organized under the laws of other states to conform to its provisions. Although not specifically referred to in his opinion, discussion with his deputy advising this office has brought out that in his view the section of the constitution above quoted does not apply by reason of the recent decision of the Supreme Court in the case of Commonwealth Acceptance Corporation vs. Jordan, 198, Cal. 618. The company was therefore admitted. In this opinion the Attorney General has advised me that while the company may not be required to comply with the investment limitations of section 421 it must in fact be solvent under section 602 of the Political Code, using the ordinary commercial basis of valuing its assets. While I have no desire to criticize the Attorney General in this ruling, which seems to be in accordance with the terms of the statute, it would appear that such a ruling places California companies at a disadvantage in so far as the provisions of our law may be more stringent than those of the home states of applying companies. The insurance business is impressed with a high trust for the public interest and commercial standards of solvency are not always of such a character as will meet these needs. The statutory restrictions of our own state are designed for the protection of its citizens and a considerable part of the value of that protection is lost if the restriction applies only to companies incorporated in this state and not to all companies which may do business in this state.

This issue has recently arisen in the state of New York over the question of the owning of one company by another and the counting of the stock of the subsidiary company among the assets of the parent company. The statute of that state restricts the possible investment of a New York company in the stock of another company doing the same kind of insurance business and the Superintendent of Insurance of that state has interpreted this law to apply equally to companies of other states, under that interpretation threatening to cancel the license of a company organized in New Jersey. That company has entered action for injunction in the Federal Court and the case is now pending. The Superintendent has been severely criticized by certain companies for his action but it seems to me that the case is well put in a recent editorial of a widely read insurance journal from which I quote the following:

> "There is another aspect of the question, however, so large that the critics appear not to have seen it 'because of the trees.' They all rely upon the pecularity of the New York law as to Mr. Beha's ruling. That law imposes regulations as to capital, surplus and stock investments upon New York and 'foreign' companies. Now it is claimed that the superintendent has no power of that sort over the domestic companies of other states of this country.
> "If he has no such power he should have it. To lack such rounded power would leave New York at the mercy of companies from everywhere without the safeguards required of its own companies. Why should New York take steps to protect the public of forty-seven states as to its own companies and fail to protect its own public as to the companies of the other forty-seven states?
> "The point made is that the law is specific as to particular companies. This point is trivial until the law is finally tested.' As far as the law is concerned in its practice the companies of all states when entering other states are 'foreign companies' to each other when it comes to taxation of premiums and operating fees. Why should they then claim immunity from other regulations? The existence of retaliatory powers in all the state laws is evidence that legislatures reserved the right to their insurance bureaus to regulate for safety all companies admitted."

I am not prepared at this time to recommend a specific amendment to our statute covering this point but believe thoughtful consideration should be given by all concerned as to the proper procedure so as to assure reasonable comity between states without arbitrariness and harshness and yet to preserve to the commissioner of this state the power of assuring to our citizens equal soundness in the companies of other states.

This becomes the more important when consideration is given to the practice heretofore uncommon in the insurance business, but apparently growing, of incorporating the company in one state and operating from an executive office in another state. This appears to give to such corporation all the leeway of the laws of the state under which they are incorporated and the advantage of representing that they hail essentially from the state in which the executive office is domiciled. This appears to give them a distinct advantage over the companies incorporated under our laws. I have been led to call attention to this by the records of certain companies promoted by citizens of other states which it has become my duty to place in receiverships during my term of office.

INSOLVENCIES AND LIQUIDATIONS

The names of the companies withdrawing from California and the reasons have been published in the several volumes of my successive reports but beyond that no discussion of the individual cases have been presented. It would seem that this report should include at least some reference to these cases.

Olds and Stoller Inter-Exchange

In the fall of 1925 I learned through an examination of this exchange that it appeared to be conducting its business in a manner which tended to jeopardize the interests of its policyholders. Under the law it became my duty to, and I therefore instituted proceedings under the act approved April 30, 1919, providing for the liquidation of insurance companies and succeeded in having those interested in this exchange undertake its liquidation under the supervision of the department and such liquidation has been going on since that time. In this way the interests of the policyholders have been protected and further losses prevented. This liquidation is about completed.

Union Indemnity Exchange

As noted in my Fifty-eighth Annual Report, on February 3, 1925, I proceeded against the Union Indemnity Exchange and was appointed receiver of such exchange. This exchange was operated at the time by one C. P. Summers, who had recently come to California. Report of examination had indicated that this exchange was insolvent and I therefore proceeded under the provisions of the act above referred to.

Under my receivership a number of assets were discovered and recovered which it did not appear could be secured at the time the receivership action was inaugurated. The affairs of the exchange have been wound up and my final accounting as receiver has been filed and I have been discharged from such receivership. This receivership saved substantial sums to the policyholders of such exchange and was conducted at a minimum of time and expense. Incidentally I instituted criminal proceedings against Summers and secured his indictment by the grand jury in San Francisco for embezzlement. The police, however, were unable to serve the warrant and Summers is now a fugitive from justice.

Seaboard Casualty Company

The said Summers had also organized the Seaboard Casualty Company in this state and used a part of the assets of the Union Indemnity Exchange for this purpose. This being discovered in connection with the receivership of the exchange I proceeded against the Seaboard Casualty Company on February 11, 1925, and was appointed receiver of this company. I discovered that this concern had virtually no assets and have deemed it proper not to close this receivership until further developments.

National Land Insurance Company

The National Land Insurance Company of Las Vegas, Nevada, was incorporated January 8, 1925, in the State of Nevada, and was authorized to write land value insurance in California May 27, 1925, commencing actual operations about November 1, 1925. In the fall of 1926 examination disclosed that the mortgages which constituted the major part of the assets of the company were far in excess of the proportion of the actual market value of the property mortgaged authorized by law, resulting in an impairment of the capital stock in excess of twenty-five per cent of the stock and that otherwise the condition of the company was not in the interest of the citizens of California. The report of examination as of October 31, 1926, having been submitted November 17, 1926, I applied to the superior court in and for the county of Los Angeles for appointment as receiver in accordance with the provisions of the act of 1919 and on December 20, 1926, was appointed receiver. Subsequent investigations have disclosed other irregularities. This receivership has been involved in considerable litigation in the Nevada state courts and the federal courts, but negotiations looking to a settlement thereof and effecting certain salvage of assets are about to be consummated.

In my Fifty-ninth Annual Report I reported that the Marquette National Fire Insurance Company and the Pittsburgh Fire Insurance Company had withdrawn from the state by reason of receivership and insolvency. The failure of the second company was due to its control by the first. When the Marquette National was admitted the usual precautions were taken and the department was advised that the home department of the state of Illinois had examined the company several times and that it was in a satisfactory condition. For this reason the sudden disclosure of an entirely false financial foundation with apparent manipulations from its early history was particularly a shock.

EXAMINATIONS

In view of the discoveries early in my term of service of weakness in some of the above companies, I determined to examine all companies in the state and have done so. Such examination, however, is not a complete safeguard for the citizens of the state unless at frequent intervals and it is desirable to learn something of the relative need of examination so that those whose condition is above question may be spared needless expense. Accordingly, upon recommendations of a prominent consulting actuary of New York that the volume of insurance business in California was sufficiently great to warrant the adoption of the practice of the New York department of calling for quarterly reports from California companies, I made arrangements to secure part time services of a competent independent actuary to audit such reports and as a part of examination work, beginning with March, 1926, quarterly statements have been called for from all California companies. These statements are carefully audited and I believe this practice has resulted in enabling us to prevent a number of similar insolvencies.

In connection with this work I have also arranged to have as many as possible of the annual statements of companies other than California also carefully audited although the staff of the department does not permit the auditing of all such statements.

EXAMINATION STATE FUND

A number of rumors and criticism of the transactions of the State Compensation Insurance Fund having come to me and shortly after taking office on learning that the fund had not been examined I arranged with the late General S. H. Wolfe of New York, an outstanding actuary and examiner, for an examination of the fund. This examination was made as of October 22, 1925, and showed that the rumors and charges were not well founded, but that the fund was in a healthy condition and had been well conducted.

CURRENT EXAMINATIONS

Rumors having been current for a considerable time that certain life insurance companies in St. Louis were not being managed along sound lines for the benefit of policyholders, but were more or less in the control of speculators using their positions for their own advancement, and examination of the sworn statements as filed in this office indicating apparent basis for such rumors, I reluctantly determined to exercise the powers of this office in the examination of a company domiciled in another state, in view of the evidence of the long continuance of the practices criticized. Unfortunately this has caused some friction with the insurance department of the state of Missouri, but the matter has now been satisfactorily cleared up and examinations of the companies are proceeding under the joint auspices of several insurance departments representing the National Convention of Insurance Commissioners with Mr. Nelson B. Hadley, chief examiner for life companies of the New York department in charge by courtesy of the New York department. Obviously if the rumors have been false, such examination will clear them up to the distinct advantage of the companies concerned. If they are true it would appear that the ascertainment of that fact must of necessity force reform within the companies to the benefit of their policyholders. This is of importance to us because of the large amount of business done by these companies in this state.

ASSESSMENT ASSOCIATIONS

There have been on the statute books for a number of years two sections of the civil code, sections 452*a* and 453, which provide for the organization of mutual benefit and life associations on the assessment plan. It was the interpretation of my predecessors in office that such forms of life insurance were not subject to the jurisdiction of the insurance commissioner and no agents' licenses were issued to their representatives. However, on January 23, 1924, the Attorney General ruled that such associations were subject to the jurisdiction of this department and certain associations having been formed apparently in good faith, licenses were issued to them. Since the first of these companies were organized, a large number of such organizations have been promoted and recent examinations disclosed the organizations are not in fact incorporations of groups of individuals for their mutual benefit but have been promoted by certain individuals who make long time contracts with the associations to represent them as general manager, receiving for such services all moneys paid as dues in excess of the amount actually required for the expenses of the association, no part of the dues being used for the payment of death claims. At the session of the legislature in 1927 I presented an amendment to the law which I believed would preserve whatever advantage there may be in such associations for restricted groups of members, such as the employees of a common employer, and provide for reasonable protection of those who may unwittingly join such associations promoted for commercial purposes. While the bill was passed by the Senate, unfortunately it did not pass the Assembly. Since that time promotions of these companies have been increased and examination has disclosed that in certain cases substantial sums have been advanced to the promoters of the company for the purpose of promoting them in consideration of subsequent contracts to those associated with the promoter. In my opinion it is urgent that proper legislation be enacted to curb these evils.

BANK OF ITALY CASE

During the fall of 1927 a number of branch managers of the Bank of Italy applied to this office for licenses as insurance agents and before the licenses were issued formal protest was filed with me on behalf of the California Association of Insurance Agents against the issuance of such licenses as in conflict with the provisions of section 633 of the Political Code, particularly those parts of that section which prohibit the issuance of a license to applicants who are "actuated principally in applying for the license by the prospect of insuring * * * property * * * over which he is himself, or through his employer * * * able to control the placing of insurance or surety bonds therefor." Upon the receipt of such protest I held the issuance of licenses in abeyance and called both the representatives of the bank and of the agents' association before me for an informal hearing and later filing of written statements with respect to the question. I then referred the matter to the Attorney General and under date of April 30, 1928, he rendered an opinion which reads in part as follows:

> "In view of the foregoing I am of the opinion that the section above quoted was not designed to prohibit bank employees per se from being licensed as insurance agents. If, however, it should appear in any case that a bank or any other institution or person used coercive methods in obtaining insurance, such as refusing loans, renewals thereof or credit, except upon the condition that its patrons or prospective patrons grant them the placing of their insurance, in whole or in part, as a pre-requisite for the obtaining of said loans, renewals, or credit, and as a part of such plan or scheme should direct an employee to apply for an insurance agent's license, the latter might be said to be actuated principally by the prospect of insuring property, which he is through his employer able to control the placing of insurance thereon."

Following receipt of this opinion, there being no evidence of coercion or intention of coercion the licenses were issued upon the pending applications.

WORKMEN'S COMPENSATION INSURANCE RATES

During the entire period of my incumbency up to the present time the provisions of section 602*b* of the Political Code relative to workmen's compensation insurance rates have been met through the operation, under my supervision, of the California Inspection Rating Bureau and no matters of unusual moment have come up in connection therewith.

RECODIFICATION OF INSURANCE LAW

It would not be appropriate to close this report without referring to the action of the American Bar Association at its meeting in Buffalo in September, 1927. The report of its standing committee on insurance law recommended that a draft submitted by them of statutory provisions relating to the business of insurance be approved by the association, that the secretary of the association be authorized to furnish copies of the draft to legislative committees and others interested, and that the committee on insurance under the direction of the executive committee of the association be authorized to cooperate with the Convention of Insurance Commissioners and the National Convention of the Commissioners on uniform state laws from time to time in recommending and favoring the enactment of the several chapters of regulatory provisions contained in this discussion.

The insurance law of this state is scattered through a number of different parts of the codes and the lack of uniformity in the insurance laws of the several states is in many respects contrary to the interest of the policyholders. It would appear that this recommendation of the American Bar Association furnishes the means of greatly improving the situation to the benefit of all concerned. The draft of the proposed revised code is now being carefully studied by the Insurance Section of the Commonwealth Club and the State Bar and as a result there will no doubt be a recommendation of legislation which will be greatly to the benefit, not only of the insurance business, but to the policyholders and public generally. I therefore respectfully invite your attention as well as that of the legislature to a consideration of this subject.

Respectfully submitted.

CHARLES R. DETRICK,
Insurance Commissioner.

STATE OF CALIFORNIA

DEPARTMENT OF INSURANCE

612 STATE BUILDING

SAN FRANCISCO

September 11, 1928.

HON. C. C. YOUNG,
Governor of the State of California,
Sacramento, California.

MY DEAR GOVERNOR:

Supplementing my report recently filed with you, I deem it my duty as Insurance Commissioner to make a brief reference to the request of the marine underwriters doing business in California for the substitution of the net underwriting profits tax in lieu of the present gross premium tax upon marine insurance in this state.

This question in recent years has been the subject of careful study by the Congress of the United States and the insurance commissioners of the various states, with the result that Congress in the early part of 1922 adopted the so-called "Model Marine Bill" for the District of Columbia, and in the following September the national convention of insurance commissioners approved a similar act for adoption in the various states.

Prior to this, the subcommittee of the Committee on Merchant Marine and Fisheries of the House of Representatives, in conjunction with the United States Shipping Board, had addressed memorials to the governors and insurance commissioners of the various states urging the importance and necessity of such legislation.

Following the above action the states of New York, Pennsylvania, Oregon and New Jersey have adopted the net underwriting profits tax on marine insurance. While the verbiage of the several acts above referred to is very similar, I consider that of New York (the greatest of our maritime states and the leader in all things pertaining to insurance) the typical law on this subject and best suited to our purposes.

I recommend its adoption in this state for the following reasons:

1. It will tend to encourage the writing of marine insurance by California and American companies, whereas at present British and other foreign underwriters dominate and control this business;

2. It will permit California and other domesticated marine insurers to compete on an equal tax basis with English and other nonadmitted marine underwriters;

3. In reducing the tax burden on marine insurance it will make possible the reduction of marine insurance rates to our shippers, manufacturers, farmers and all others interested in commerce;

4. It will tend to secure American marine business to American underwriters;

5. It will increase, as it already has in New York, the amount of marine insurance written in this state, so that it may confidently be predicted that the state will eventually receive a much greater amount of revenue therefrom, whereas at present our tax income from this source is comparatively small;

6. It will remove the discrimination to which California companies are now subjected in the other states having this law, where, by reason of the reciprocal laws of those states, California companies are deprived of its benefits and are taxed according to the provisions of the present California gross premiums tax law;

7. It will conduce to uniformity and equality of treatment of marine insurance companies throughout the nation.

In conclusion, there appears to be practically a unanimous opinion among all insurance experts and state and federal officials, who have considered this subject, that this law should be adopted throughout the United States and it is my sincere belief that its enactment will contribute to the general welfare and prosperity of this state.

Yours very respectfully,

CHARLES R. DETRICK,
Insurance Commissioner.
